Customs and Courtesies

CAP Pamphlet 151 Standards, Customs and Courtesies

The Foundations

- Rooted in basic politeness and respect.
- Meant to show mutual respect for hard work.
- Always assume good faith.
- Why?
  - Establishes relationship between juniors and seniors.
  - Situational awareness/discipline.
  - Esprit de corps

Greeting

NCO:

- “Good ____, Sergeant/Chief.”
- No salute
- No difference between male and female

Officer:

- “Good ____, Sir/Ma’am.”
- Salute if outdoors
- Sir or Ma’am depending on gender.

Greeting Multiple

- More than two females and/or more than two males use ladies and gentlemen.
- When there are males and females, greet female(s) first.
- Examples:
  - Good evening, gentlemen.
  - Good afternoon, Ma’am. Good afternoon, Sergeant.
  - Good morning, ladies and gentlemen.
  - Good evening, Chief. Good evening gentlemen.

Saluting

- Salute cadet officers, senior members, and military officers.
- 6 paces away is considered the ideal distance.
- Junior should initiate the salute.
  - Hold the salute until it is returned or the officer has passed.
- Only salute outdoors unless reporting.
  - There may be exceptions to the rule that you will be informed of.

    Example: flight line.
- Golden rule of saluting: If you aren’t sure, salute.

Chain of Command

Chain of Command

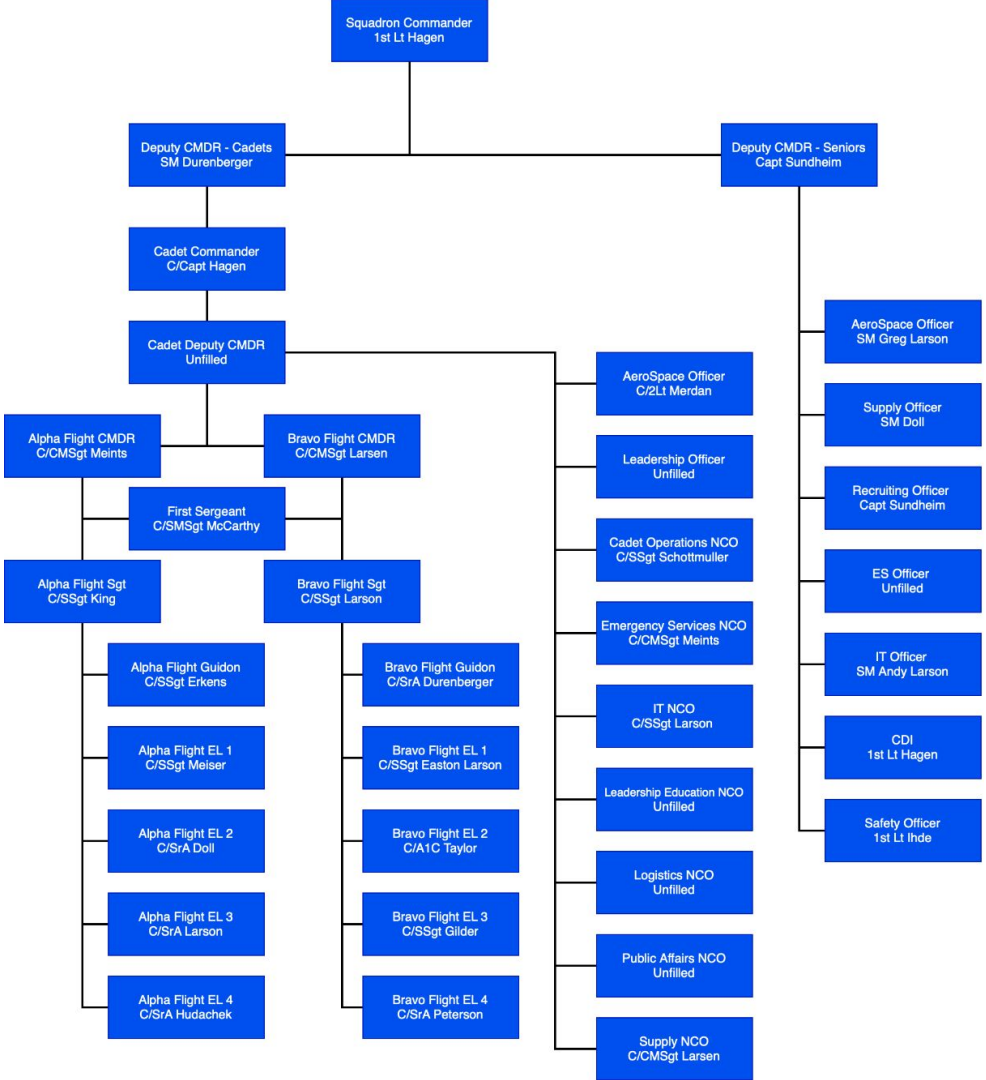
- The goal is to solve problems at the lowest level.
- Start with element leaders.
- Heavily enforced at Wing activities and beyond.
- Respect the authority.
  - Don’t be going above your flight staff’s heads.



This is on the new Skyhawk website.
