What is Email Etiquette?

Email etiquette refers to the set of rules and principles that one should follow when using email communication.

- ★ Have simple language
- ★ Use correct grammar
- ★ Have a relevant subject line
- ★ Consider your tone and phrasing of words
- ★ Respond within 48 hours

Appropriate address in an email "Good morning," "Good afternoon," or "Good evening," followed by the person's grade and last name.

For example: "Good afternoon 1st Lt. Hagen," or "Good afternoon Sir"

It is not appropriate to start an email with "Hey 1st Lt.," or "Hi Hagen"

3 Main Things to Keep in Mind

Keep it professional:

- Remember this is not an email to your friends.
- Make sure you use appropriate language

Keep it short:

- Your email doesn't need to be an essay.
- You don't need to reach a word count.

Keep it relevant:

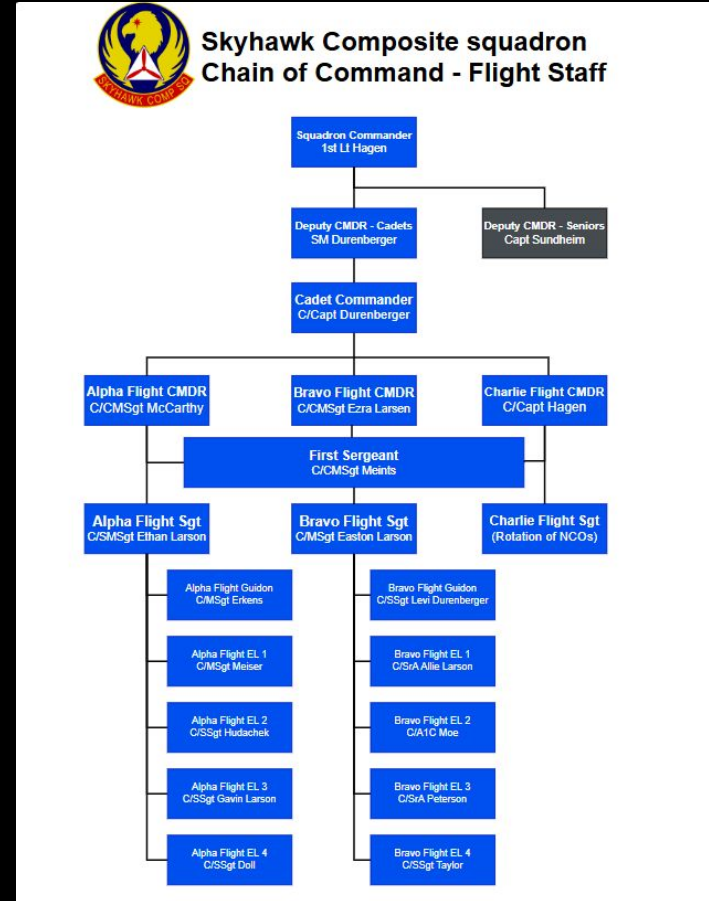

- Remember, the email is for a purpose.
- If you keep it simple and on task the email will also be shorter.

Email Chain of Command

If you need to email someone you will start at the bottom of the chain of command (your Flight Sergeant).

Make sure to Cc your Flight Commander on your email communications.

If your Flight Sergeant doesn't have the answer to your question, they will go up the chain.

Know the Difference Between To and Cc

- To: are the recipients you actually want the email to go to; those who need the information you're providing or are acting on something in the email
- Cc: are the “guest recipients” for which you're providing awareness of the information or action in your email. Don't expect those in the Cc: line to act on your email.
- Always Cc another Senior Member when you are sending an email to one of the Senior Members

CAP Signature Block

- At the end of your email you should have a signature block.
- The signature block goes after your sign off (ex. Very Respectfully)
- The signature block must include cadet rank, name, and duty positions (if any).
- Optional information includes phone number.

Very Respectfully,

Cadet Chief Master Sgt. Caden Meints
Skyhawk Composite Squadron
Bravo Flight Commander
Public Affairs NCO
Color Guard Commander
Civil Air Patrol, U.S. Air Force Auxiliary

How to Make Your Email in eServices

- ❑ You need to have created an eServices account and then log in using your CAPID and password.
- ❑ Once you're logged in, click your name in the top right corner, and click Contacts in the drop down menu.
- ❑ That will bring you to the following page (bottom image), where you can add and edit your contacts.
- ❑ Make sure to use an email address that's current for yourself, this will be the email that we will send things to.
- ❑ Please also add an email for a parent so that we are able to contact them if needed.
